FARM AND HOME COATINGS

Quality paints that meet the needs of rural America.

Both Van Sickle® and Vogels trace their roots to rural America and the need to formulate high-quality coatings to withstand the often harsh and varied environments of life in the country. When the two businesses combined forces, our customers reaped the benefits of 100 years of service to the Farm Fleet and Hardware Wholesale markets with a commitment to their specific needs.

FIRST-RATE CUSTOMER SERVICE

Everything we do at Van Sickle® Paint is built on the foundation of superior service. Rapid response, a dedicated customer support staff, and a guarantee of satisfaction are the tools we have to ensure that your standards are met, so we can exceed our customers' expectations.

FACTORY TO DEALER SATISFACTION

Van Sickle's team of results-oriented professionals includes a focused sales force, highly qualified technicians, and an efficient distribution network. An important part of that mix is empowering you to custom build your store's product offering and displays to fit the needs of your customer market.

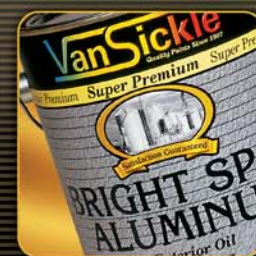

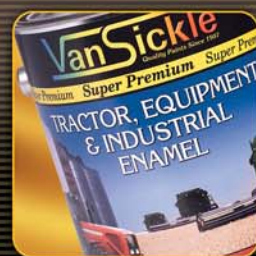

Esteem
of Tradition

For more than 100 years in the coatings industry, Van Sickle® Paint Mfg. Co. has practiced the value of tradition. Over 30 years ago, Van Sickle® Paint joined the steadfast family of Vogel companies as the dedicated rural and home coatings division. Whether mixing a long standing, true formula, or creating a new one, the tradition of quality for a fair price is always present at Van Sickle® Paint.

OUT IN THE FIELD

Whether restoring Grandpa's old tractor or touching up a new barn, rural folks take pride in a job well done and an outstanding finished product. Van Sickle® shares those values, and works hard to make each project – and each customer – look great.
