Old Masters Doubles the Size of Their Distribution Center

Orange City, IA – March 6, 2019 – Old Masters, a division of Diamond Vogel, unveiled their distribution center expansion at a ribbon cutting ceremony today. The new addition doubled the amount of storage space by adding over 25,000 square feet to the existing building. The additional space will be used to allow Old Masters to efficiently warehouse and distribute more product for their customers, as well as other Diamond Vogel produced products.

“We are really pleased that the increasing customer demand for our Old Masters products has allowed us to add this additional resource for our company,” said Doug Vogel, Vice President of Marketing and Strategic Relationships for Diamond Vogel. “Customers across the United States and Canada have found that Old Masters provides the right mix of quality and value for their projects.”

The original Old Masters building was opened in 2007. It included 4,142 square feet of office space and 25,216 square feet of warehouse space. Construction on the new distribution center addition began in the summer of 2018.

“The City of Orange City appreciates the investment that Diamond Vogel made with the Old Masters distribution center expansion,” said Mark Gaul, Community Development Director for the City of Orange City. “Diamond Vogel has always been a leader when it comes to industrial growth in Orange City. We are thankful for their leadership and look forward to future projects.”
